

Maryculter House

Maryculter House

One of Scotland's most historic hotels

Our stunning building, which dates back to the 13th century, is filled with original period detail and our breath-taking location on the banks of the River Dee offers the perfect setting, whatever the occasion.

From the Knights Templar to the Jacobites, from the great Gordon family to survivors of the Titanic, Maryculter House has the threads of history woven through it. It is a hotel like no other.

Furthermore, it is located on the picturesque riverbank and the charming ruins of the 12th century St Mary's Chapel. Savour the beauty and splendour of the hotel and its grounds, and let us take care of every detail for you.
